NEGRO SLAYER TAKEN IN GRENADA TUESDAY

Tom McNeil, Wanted by Montgomery County Authorities for Murder of Another Negro Monday, Taken by Sheriff Dogan at Negro's Home Here after Two-Day Hunt. Negro Regarded as Desperate Character.

Tom McNeil, negro, who shot and instantly killed Edmond Jones, another negro about eight o'clock Monday night on the Martindale place, just over the line in Montgomery County a few miles south-east of Elliott, was captured at six o'clock Tuesday evening by Sheriff Dave W. Dogan at the home of Alex Murphy, a negro living in Grenada on Commerce Street near the Y. & M. V. crossing. He was lodged in jail and was taken Wednesday morning to Winona by Montgomery County authorities.

McNeil was employed on the road gang constructing the hard surfaced highway from Grenada to Holcomb. It was reported to Sheriff Dogan Monday morning that he had beaten a negro woman and had left the road camp carrying with him a 30-30 Winchester rifle belonging to Mr. Shumake, foreman of the road gang. Mr. Dogan had been hunting for him all day Monday and was still after him Tuesday morning when a phone call came from Sheriff Smith at Winona that the negro had killed another negro in Montgomery county and had headed back toward Grenada. In the absence of Sheriff Dogan, Judson Jennings organized a posse which met the posse from Montgomery County just a few miles south of town. The negro was seen several times on the banks of Perry Creek running through the Tatum place but none of the posse was able to get near enough to get a shot with their revolvers. The negro was still carrying the stolen rifle with which he had killed Jones and it would have been suicidal to have tried to take him. McNeil had forced his wife with their three-months old baby to accompany him but he left her early in the afternoon when the trail behind him became too hot. He came on to Grenada to the home of Alex Murphy and it was there that he was taken. Information was given Mr. Dogan by Murphy and Bob Bostie, two good colored citizens of Grenada, which brought about the negro's capture. The statutory reward of $100 for the capture of a murderer will be given these two, according to Sheriff Dogan.

By McNeil's own statement, the killing was unjustifiable and unwarranted. He says that he was passing the dead negro's house, when Jones came out of the lot with a basket of corn on his shoulder and that Jones dropped the basket, threw his hand to his pocket and called to him to stop. With that, he drew bead on him and fired at once. The dead negro's wife says that McNeil searched the body after the killing and took $2 from the pockets. McNeil denies this.

The negro that was killed bore a splendid reputation. He was employed by Buck McCracken on Glenwild Plantation. The slayer was regarded as a desperate character. According to the negroes, most of whom are mortally afraid of him, he had already killed three negroes and had started out this time to run his total up to seven. He escaped from the jail at Winona about a month ago where he was imprisoned on the charge of robbery.

McNeil denies that he had ever had any trouble before and also denies that he whipped the woman at the road camp.

FIRST COLLEGE BASKET- BALL GAME TODAY.

Grenada College will open its basketball season this afternoon at 3:30 when it meets Ole Miss on the college campus. The college girls are in mid-season condition and are anxious to get into the game. Ole Miss has fallen victim time after time to the excellent playing of Grenada College and is trying now to get revenge for former defeats. The game will be well worth seeing and will start promptly on time.

Grenada College will meet this this season some of the best teams in the state and is hoping to come out victorious in all the games.

Grenada Meets Winona Turkey Day

Gridiron Superiority of Ancient Rivals Will be Decided on Turkey Day. Winona Has Won Five and Lost Two Games This Season. Grenada Has Won Three, Tied Two and Lost One. Only One Team Has Scored on Locals.

The Thanksgiving Day game of Football between the Grenada High School team and the Winona High School team promises to be a thrill from start to finish. The game will be called at 2:30 sharp at the Grenada High School grounds and the records of the two teams thus far point to a real football game from start to finish. The Winona delegation will be here in full force determined to put over the victory they won last year. Coach Barr and all who have seen the Grenada boys in action are equally as confident of victory.

Stores and all places of business will be closed as usual on Thanksgiving Day and a great crowd should be on hand to show their loyalty to the home team. The boys are in fine form and anxious to go. The following data as to the two teams is proof sufficient of a great grid iron battle: Winona: Games Played and Results. Winona 6 Holmes County Agri. High School 7; Winona 43, Montgomery County A. H. S. 0; Winona 0, Greenville 28; Winona 45, Water Valley 0; Winona 6, Charleston 0; Winona 6, Montgomery County A. H. S. 0; Winona 18, Lexington 0. Grenada: Games Played and Results. Grenada 0, Water Valley 0; Grenada 0, Lexington 0; Grenada 38, College Hill A. H. S. 0; Grenada 12, Charleston 0; Grenada 0, Oxford 9; Grenada 13, Water Valley 0.

Average weight of teams: Winona 140, Grenada 142. Boys on teams who graduate this year, Winona 7, Grenada 8.

Admission to game 50 cents, School pupils 25 cents. Cars will not be allowed to park on College Street.

WALTON OUSTED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE

"Iron Jack" Found Guilty on Eleven Charges Involving Neglect of Duty, Corruption in Office and "General Incompetence."

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 19.—J. C. Walton, fifth governor of Oklahoma, was removed from office tonight by unanimous vote of the state Senate court of impeachment, after his trial on charges of corruption in office, neglect of duty, moral turpitude and general incompetence.

A formal verdict ordering the removal was returned after the executive had been found guilty of 11 of the 16 charges presented. The vote was 41 to 0.

Six of the original 22 charges constituting the impeachment bill were dismissed by order of the court.

SHERIFF GETS ANOTHER STILL

Monday night, Sheriff Dave W. Dogan dismantled another still which was located on a place twenty-three miles northeast of Grenada near the Yalobusha County line. It is one of the largest yet brought in, having a capacity of 50 gallons, and is made of copper throughout. There were eighteen barrels of mash (about 1000 gallons) which the sheriff destroyed.

Mr. Dogan had had men watching the still for some time. Monday night, after the operators had started the outfit running, one of the watchers left to notify the sheriff. The distillers evidently heard him going through the woods for when the sheriff reached there about nine o'clock, he found no one. He stayed there until eight o'clock the next morning but nobody returned to the still and he brought his find on to town. The sheriff's office at the courthouse has been filled with visitors all the week viewing the outfit. Mr. Dogan says that he regrets that he did not bring with him a bucket of maggots and worms that he found in the mash and in the still.

MAYOR SAYS AMENDMENT WILL MEAN SAVING OF APPROXIMATELY $3000.

Addresses Open Letter to Public in Which He Gives Figures to Show Saving to City if Charter Amendment is Made. Gives His Reasons Why He Thinks Changes Should be Made. Compares Taxes Now With What They Were in 1903.

Grenada, Miss., Nov. 19, 1923. To the Citizens of Grenada:

I am addressing this letter to you through the columns of The Sentinel in order that I might put clearly before you why the proposed amendment to the city charter should be made and to show you how the taxpayers will be saved approximately $3000.00 yearly by making the changes outlined in the amendment. Numerous petitions are being circulated against making the amendment and I feel that all of you are entitled to know the facts about the question and just why the changes are proposed before making up your minds.

The following is the schedule of salaries that are now being paid out by the city under the present form of government:

Marshal and tax collector (approximately)	$3000.00
Street Commissioner	1200.00
Recorder	600.00
Water & Light collector	540.00
City Treasurer	240.00

Total.....$5580.00

The amendment purposes to have the city recorder keep the city's books, the minutes of the meetings of the mayor and board of aldermen, to take over the duties of tax assessor and collector now performed by the marshal and to take over the duties of the water and light collector. The city recorder would be appointed by the mayor and board of aldermen and would be required to stay at the mayor's office all of the time from early morning until late afternoon. This would enable anyone to obtain any time any information he desired about the city's affairs as the recorder would be there all during the day. It would also give the laborer and the workman the opportunity to pay his water and light bill before he went to work in the morning or after he quit work in the afternoon. As it now is, the water and light collector does not go on duty until about 8:30 in the morning and leaves the mayor's office not later than 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Time after time, people come to the office to pay their light and water bill but there is no one there to take the money. And if one should happen to let the fifth of the month get by without paying his bill, he would have to go all the way to the power house to get the amount and the receipt. This is not as it should be. One should be able to get his bill at any hour of the day and by having the recorder on duty all the time, the above inconvenience could be avoided. By paying the recorder a reasonable salary—and we can get one fully qualified to serve, putting in his full time—the city would save a good deal of money.

Under the amendment, the city marshal would still be elected by the voters but his duties would be only those of a policeman and street commissioner. By the taking over by the marshal of the duties of the street commissioner, this would mean an additional savings of $1200. to the taxpayers. We could fix the salary of the marshal at a reasonable figure and his perquisites would add considerably to this, giving him a pretty good salary when totaled.

The office of city treasurer can be abolished without impairing in any way the handling of the city's finances. The bank that handles the city's funds does all the work now and by doing away with the office, which is no more than just giving a man a pension, the city will save $240. there.

Under the amendment, I figure that what is now costing the city $5500.00 per year could be done for approximately $3000. less, meaning a good saving. This saving of $3000. in my opinion, is worth taking when it can be done and at the same time greatly improve the efficiency with which the city's business is handled. I feel that one should take just as much interest in looking after the city's affairs as he would after his own private interests. When a man in business sees where he can save money by making some changes in the way he handles his business, which will greatly add to the service he can render to his customers, you can bet that he is not slow to take advantage of the opportunity.

We are all anxious to have taxes as low as possible. In 1903, the tax rate in Grenada was only 12 1/2 mills. It is now 32 mills. Considering the valuation of property at that time as compared with what it is now, there's quite a difference, isn't there? As assessments have gone up, the tax rate should have declined. But both have risen. By cutting down expenditures as much as possible, it will mean that there will be less taxes to pay. And I'm sure that we all would be glad to see that come to pass.

The changes under the amendment do not affect in the least the salaries of any of the present officers. They will continue to hold office at the same salary that they are now getting. Their pay or duties will not be changed in the slightest degree. The amendment, if made, will not go into effect until the first Monday in May, 1924, when the newly-elected officers will be sworn in and none of the present officers thing to do with the regulation of the city's affairs after that time. The voters of the city will have the say about whom they want and the new officers will be the ones that will take over the new duties.

After carefully considering the amendment from every possible angle, I am sure that the citizens will agree with the mayor and aldermen that it should be made and that it will mean for a greater and more prosperous Grenada.

Respectfully,
S. T. TATUM,
Mayor.

$145.00 Waiting For Four Fortunate People

Four Awards Still Uncalled For. Somebody is Going to Get Them Sooner or Later. Will Continue to Announce Numbers Until Amounts are Claimed.

Some people have been mighty lax about holding on to the tickets given them during the year by the merchants who are participating in the $2000 gold distribution. If everybody had carefully preserved their tickets and had looked through them thoroughly after each distribution had taken place, there would now be no unclaimed awards. Many throw their tickets away soon after they get them; many lose them and others misplace them. The capital award of $100 from the third distribution that took place on October 6 is still waiting for somebody to (Continued on page 8)

Missionary Forces to Gather in Grenada

Important Meeting Held at Okolona. One of a Group of Gatherings. Will Meet Here Today. General Meeting in Grenada on Dec. 13.

Miraculous Escape When Car Spills

T. H. Weir and Donald Sharp Have Remarkable Escape When Ford Car Overturns on Curve, Flipping Them Underneath. Receive Only Slight Bruises.

T. H. Weir and Donald Sharp miraculously escaped death late last Friday afternoon when a Ford car, owned and driven by Mr. Weir, overturned with them on the curve at Martindale Stock Farm, north of Grenada, where the Memphis Highway comes into the gravelled road. The two men were returning from a bird hunt. They were coming down "Martin's Lane" at a good rate of speed. Mr. Weir was wearing heavy hunting boots and when he attempted to slow down for the curve his foot slipped off the brake and onto the foot accelerator, which caused the car to overturn.

Both were pinned underneath the car, Mr. Weir falling on top of Mr. Sharp and the steering wheel resting on the former's back. Mr. Sharp was knocked unconscious for several minutes and his companion thought at first that he was dead. With a great deal of difficulty, both managed finally to extricate themselves and were brought to town by a passing car.

Mr. Sharp suffered several slight bruises about the body and his right hand was painfully bruised, necessitating bandaging. Mr. Weir's back was considerably strained and bruised but neither was seriously hurt. Both were able to be on duty the next morning at their places of business.

BAD TONSILS CAUSE KIDNEY TROUBLE

Grenada Doctor Addresses Medical Association.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Bad teeth, gums and tonsils are the causes of more renal trouble than many people are aware, declared Dr. R. A. Clanton of Grenada, Miss., in a paper yesterday before the Tri-State Medical Association, in session at Hotel Gayoso. The most common cause of renal trouble, or "bad kidneys," particularly in the young, is found to be either in the teeth or tonsils, he said.

"I insist that we are too lax in noticing these common gateways or foci," he said. "Bad teeth and bad tonsils is a pretty accurate arithmetical equation. Bad teeth and bad tonsils will, in the course of time, equal bad kidneys."

Dr. Clanton declared it was becoming routine with him to begin most of his physical examinations with an inspection of teeth and tonsils and where either teeth or tonsils are found diseased, he always takes an urinalysis.

"You will be surprised to know the number of unsuspected cases of renal pathology found and also how quickly this renal pathology will clear up on correcting or removing the pathology that is found to exist in the teeth or tonsils. Notably is this true of children and young adults," he said.

Many interesting papers were read before the association yesterday afternoon by physicians from the three states, including Dr. T. J. Stout of Brinkley, Ark., Dr. R. B. Caldwell of Baldwin, Miss., Dr. F. D. Smythe, Dr. W. C. Campbell and Dr. J. J. Shea of Memphis, Dr. S. H. Hairston, Meridian, Miss., and Dr. W. H. Anderson, Booneville, Miss.

The annual banquet was held last night at 8 o'clock at Hotel Chisca.

This morning's session for the first time will be devoted to more papers on interesting subjects and the papers in the afternoon will conclude the thirty-ninth annual session of the association. The selection of the new officers and conclusion of all business will be conducted today.

CLARK-COOK.

Coffeetown, Miss., Nov. 19.—Miss Freda Cook and Mr. O. L. Clark were married here Saturday night, the ceremony being performed in the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. B. C. Cook. After a trip of a few days, the young couple will make their home near Grenada, Miss.

WILL ADVANCE 18c POUND ON COTTON

Mississippi Farm Bureau Cotton Association Raises First Advance to Members on Delivery of Cotton—Association Sells Cotton Only After Receipt and Proper Classification. Deliveries Mounting Steadily.

Jackson, Miss.—Decision to raise the first advance to the members of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Cotton Association to 18 cents per pound on all cotton delivered to the Association when accompanied with bills of lading or compress receipts, was announced at the headquarters of the organization here today by Sales Manager, W. C. Neal. The raise in the first advance from 15 cents per pound to 18 cents per pound becomes effective at once, according to the announcement.

In giving out this announcement Mr. Neal made the following statement in regard to the first advances against cotton delivered to the Association: "In accordance with the authority granted by the Directors, and effective immediately, the Farm Bureau Cotton Association will advance to its members, against members' drafts, 18 cents per pound for all cotton turned into the Association, when accompanied by proper bills of lading or compress receipts, in order to help the members meet pressing obligations."

"A first distribution will be made to the members early in December, at which time all cotton turned in will be brought up to a proper base valuation giving each member the same advance per pound for the same grades and staples. In other words, the advance is based on true classification of cotton and not merely on a bale of cotton without regard to grade and staple.

"It is the policy of the Association never to sell a bale of cotton until it is actually received and classed. This avoids claims and rejections, and assures the spinner of getting the quality of cotton he buys. We have sold only in accordance with the plan of gradually marketing our cotton on strong markets as legitimate demand appears. We have every reason to believe that when final returns are made to our members the price will be well above that obtained by non-members, and that the Association will have performed a distinct service to the state by returning to our growers, in a distressingly short crop year, several hundred thousands dollars more for distribution in the state than would have been the case had the Association not been in existence."

Deliveries of cotton to the Association are steadily mounting and the members over the entire state are helping to make the first delivery season a success by prompt deliveries and hearty cooperation. South Mississippi members led the way in the deliveries, but the North and Central Mississippi counties are gradually taking the honors for the largest deliveries.

The spirit of the members is shown in a recent statement from the District Agent in Southeast Mississippi where deliveries have been large, who stated that the only regret the members in that section had was that they did not raise more cotton to deliver.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER
FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The State Board of Education acting under authority vested in it in Section 1320, Hemingway's Code, which says "that the board may designate a day to be observed in the schools as Arbor Day," which day shall be devoted to the planting of trees and otherwise improving the school grounds, has fixed the second Friday in December of each year as the day to be observed in accordance with the law.

Therefore, on Friday, December 14th, we shall expect every school to spend, at least part of the day, in planting trees, shrubs, vines and doing whatever else may be done to improve and beautify the school grounds and houses.

Dr. A. B. McKay of the A. & M. College is getting out a book that will be of great help to the amateur in planting trees.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER
FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

It is a criminal negligence of the worst sort to build a school house more than one story high without making adequate provisions for taking care of the children in case of fire.

Last winter in Cleveland, Ohio, I saw a monument erected to the memory of more than one hundred little children who had been burned to death in a school building. Last winter in one of the Carolinas the lives of several fine little boys and girls were "snuffed" out in a school house fire.

We have in Mississippi, many two and three story buildings that are regular fire-traps. This letter is written to urge county superintendents, city superintendents and trustees to see to it, at once, that the children in their care are fully protected against fire while at school by fire escapes, an adequate number of stairways, etc.

If we should lose any of our children in a school house fire this session—whose fault will it be?

The Chinese Plan is Best
Says Authority

"Four thousand years of civilization have taught the Chinese the most logical way to preserve their health," said a well-known physician, a few days ago. "Instead of waiting until they get sick to call in the doctor they pay one a salary to keep them well."

"The trouble with most of us nowadays is that we go along disregarding our health, until, bang! one of these days, our system goes to sending in bills, and then we call in the physician and sometimes want him to undo in a few days what we have been doing to tear down our constitution for years."

The old saying "a stitch in time saves nine" applies with full force to the maintenance of our health.

By stopping occasionally to recuperate our health, energy and vitality through rest, recreation, and the use of effective aids to health there is no doubt that we would add at least ten years to our life.

The effectiveness and merit of Allison's Wells water as a tonic and as a means of relieving that run-down, tired-out feeling which is often the result of malaria, or stomach, kidney, liver, or bladder troubles, is clearly shown by the hundreds of statements from prominent men and women, who have quick and easy relief and help through the consistent use of this wonderful water when they were suffering from any of these distressing ailments.

The low rates, especially for families, which prevail at the famous Mississippi watering place, known as Allison's Wells, makes a vacation possible for families of limited means and the splendid service and cooking and excellent accommodations makes it an attractive place for those whose means enable them to command just what they want.

Dancing, golf and tennis are among the amusements which help to make your visit more pleasant. More information, if you want it, in an attractive booklet, will be mailed on request.

"And I don't even need as much lard with Dainty

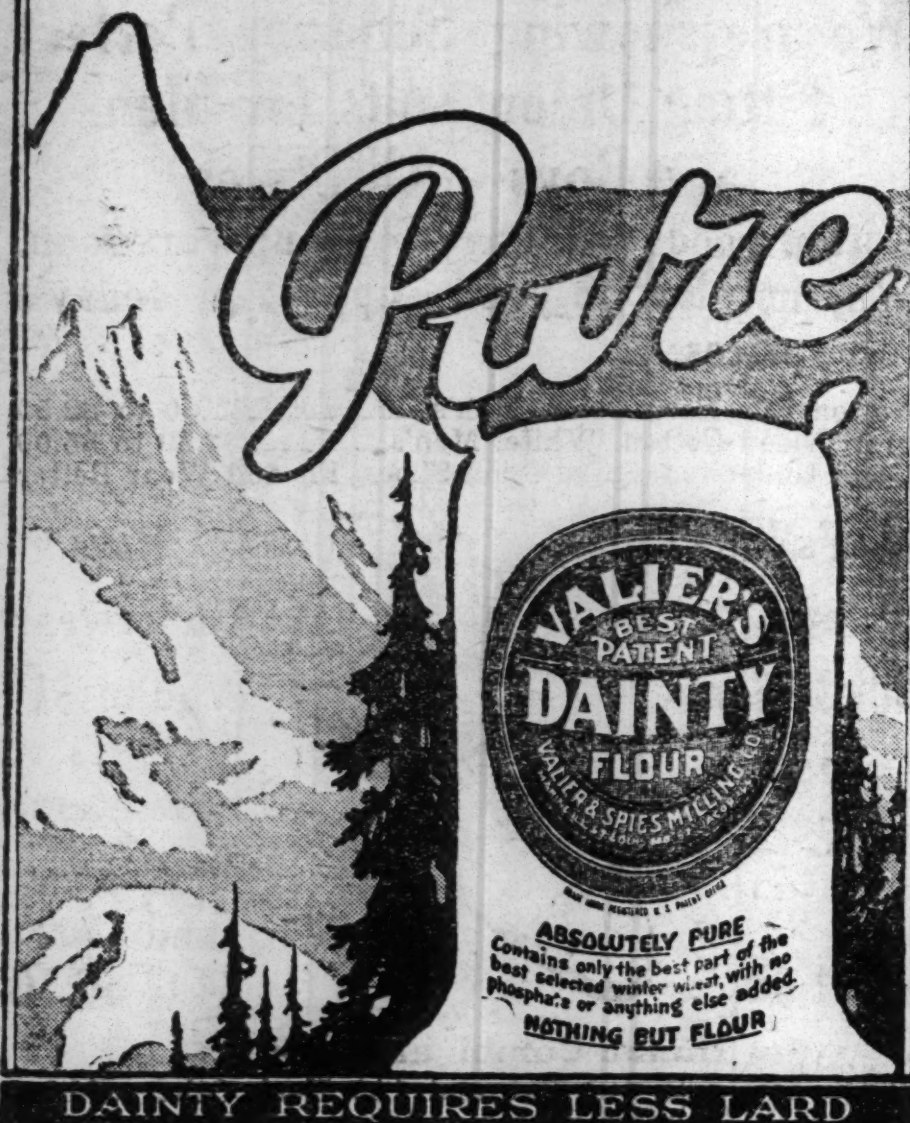

"There's a lot of good points about Dainty flour in addition to its absolute purity, with no phosphate or anything else added. It's better than ordinary flour in every way.

"Made entirely of the finest part of the kernels from the highest grade of wheat, Dainty has rising quality and flavor that far surpass ordinary flour. Biscuits made from Dainty are lighter and of better texture too. And, being pure, it's absolutely the same always. You'll keep on using Dainty after you get your first sack of it."

The difference between the price of Dainty and ordinary flour is less than it has been in years, due to favorable crop conditions.

If you are not yet a user of Dainty, now is the time to begin.

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 2

THE POWER OF THE EARLY CHURCH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2:1-4; 37-43. GOLDEN TEXT—Whoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.—Acts 2:21.

PRINCIPAL TOPIC—Peter Preaching About Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Holy Spirit's Work in Our Lives.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Holy Spirit's Work in Our Lives.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Source of Missionary Power.

The power of the early church was the Holy Spirit. This same Spirit has been the power of the church in all ages. The watchword of God's mightiest men throughout the centuries has been, "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit saith the Lord of Hosts." (Zech. 4:6.) The mightiest forces in the world are spiritual.

I. The Coming of the Spirit (Acts 2:1-4).

1. Time Of (v. 1). It was on the day of Pentecost. "Day of Pentecost" means the feast which was held fifty days after the wave sheaf was offered (Lev. 23:15-16). It was observed by presenting two loaves made of the new wheat (Lev. 23:17). These loaves were baked with leaven, while leaven was excluded from the Passover feast (Lev. 23:8). The reason was that the Passover feast typified Christ's sacrifice, while Pentecost represented the church, composed of Jews and Gentiles—the two loaves. Christ had no sin in Him while the men and women composing the church have sin in them.

The feast of Pentecost in a figurative sense still continues, for the body of Christ is not yet complete. Pentecost was a most fitting time for the coming of the Spirit.

2. Upon Whom the Spirit Came (v. 1; cf. 1:13-15).

The twelve and others to the number of 120. The coming of the Spirit was not merely for the twelve but for all believers—members of the body of Christ. They were in "one place, with one accord" waiting for the fulfillment of "Father's promise" (Luke 24:49). With a group of believers thus with eyes fixed upon Christ in expectation of the fulfillment of His promises, wonderful blessings are sure to come. If the church would be with one accord in one place wonderful blessings would come still.

II. The Marks of the Spirit (vv. 2-4). These marks were external and internal.

(1) The Sound of a Mighty Wind. There was no wind—only the sound thereof. This suggests the all-pervasive life-giving influence of the Holy Spirit.

(2) Tongues of Flame. Each of the 120 was crowned with such a tongue. The tongues show the practical purpose of the Spirit's gifts, and the fire indicates His purifying energy, purging the dross and making fit witnesses for Him.

(3) Speaking in Foreign Tongues. For these humble Galileans to thus speak caused great amazement.

2. Internal.

This is seen in the transformation wrought in the disciples. They have great courage and self-possession. Peter, who a little while before was covering before a Jewish maid, now with lion boldness stood before the thousands of Jerusalem and a little later before the chief rulers of the city and declared that they had murdered their King.

III. The Converting Power of the Holy Spirit (Acts 2:37-42).

Many people were convicted of their sins—about three thousand repented and were baptized. This revival was real because:

1. They continued steadfast in the apostles' teaching. They did not grow cold or run after every fad that came along. This is the real test of conversion.

2. They continued in fellowship with the apostles. The surest way to grow is to keep in fellowship with Christians. Death is sure to follow the neglect of the fellowship of the brethren in Christ.

3. In using the means of grace, "In the breaking of bread." God has instituted ordinances in His house and those who are genuinely converted will avail themselves of their use.

4. In prayer the apostolic church was a praying church. The Christian life cannot be lived without prayer.

Good Deeds.

The influence of a good deed is great upon the world, but the reflex influence upon the doer is a priceless thing.—Gospel Banner.

False Prophets.

False prophets and teachers have ever been speakers of pleasing words and glorifiers of the conditions of their times. Thus only can they hope to secure popularity, ease, and the other things they are after.

Insufficient for That Day.

I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom and that of all about me seemed insufficient for that day.—J. H. D.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 25

CHRISTIANS CALLED TO BE MISSIONARIES

LESSON TEXT—John 17:18; Matt. 28:19-20; Acts 1:8. GOLDEN TEXT—"Go ye therefore and teach all nations"—Matt. 28:19.

PRINCIPAL TOPIC—Teaching Everyone About Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Our Missionary Orders.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Working Together With Christ.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—World-Wide Witnessing for Christ.

I Sent by Christ (John 17:18).

Christ was sent into the world to save it. Just as He was sent, so He sends us. Just as He was obedient to the Father's command, so we should be to His command. That this might be possible Christ set apart himself, and that the disciples might be fit for this work they are to be sanctified through the truth of God's Word. That which fits the one called to represent Christ in the knowledge of God's holy Word.

II. The Great Commission (Matt. 28:19-20).

At an appointed meeting place in Galilee on a mountain side, Jesus appeared before the disciples and gave this great commission.

1. His Claim of Authority (v. 18). He does not claim to be merely the King of the Jews, but King of Kings and Lord of Lords. He stands clothed with the authority and power of the universe. Before there will be any great concern about evangelizing the world there must be an understanding of the power and might of Jesus Christ as Lord. The Lord must and shall be obeyed.

2. The Obligation Imposed (vv. 19, 20). They are to make disciples of all nations. The obligation of the Christian is not merely to preach the gospel to the Jews, but to all the nations. Those who accept Christ as Savior and Lord are to be baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. By this means they openly acknowledge their allegiance to Jesus Christ as their divine Lord. To secure public avowal of loyalty to Christ is important. It strengthens the character of the confessor. They are also to be instructed to render obedience to all the commandments and requirements of the divine Lord.

3. The Divine Presence Promised (v. 20). To assure the disciples of the success of their undertaking, Jesus guarantees His presence at all times and under all circumstances. That which gives courage and encouragement to the missionary today is the assurance of the unfailing promise of the Lord Jesus Christ.

III. The Missionary Program (Acts 1:8).

It is essential that the missionary program be understood. The work incumbent upon the church is to witness of Christ's gracious salvation to all the nations. After this is done there will follow the preaching of the gospel of the kingdom by converted Israelites. This was not clear to the disciples, therefore they put the question, "Wilt thou at this time restore the kingdom of Israel?" They were right in thinking that the kingdom will be restored. The Davidic kingdom shall be established, but not till after the gospel of the grace of God is preached and the body of Christ is completed. Its realization is certain, but the time is unknown. Times and seasons are in the hands of God. The program which the disciples are to carry out in this present time is witnessing for Christ.

1. In Jerusalem (v. 8). This was done by the Twelve immediately following Pentecost.

2. In Judea and Samaria (v. 8). This was done by the disciples after the hands of the persecutors were laid on them. Not only the Twelve but many others took part in this.

3. Unto the Uttermost Parts of the Earth. Beginning with the first foreign missionary enterprise this work has been carried on with varying degrees of success till the present time.

Being Self-Centered.

Nothing is more wearing or a more fruitful source of unhappiness in the long run than to be self-centered. If our thoughts and plans, our hopes and fears, our ideals and ambitions all center in our own personal comfort and happiness, there must come many a day of infinite weariness and self-disgust when life does not seem worth living. Poverty or riches have very little to do with it. You will find just as many well-to-do people as poor, for whom life has lost its spice and enthusiasm. It is not a question of capital, but of character.

No Place Sweeter Than Home.

It is very dangerous for any man to find any spot on this broad globe that is sweeter to him than his home.—H. W. Beecher.

A Mind in Health.

The first sure symptom of a mind in health is rest of heart, and pleasure felt at home.—Young.

It comes with every sack of cement. It has been made possible through the Portland Cement Association by the eighty-six cement manufacturers who are its members.

They realized that important research and educational work was necessary to give people the best information on how to use cement. They also realized that this could be done better by unified effort than by any individual company alone.

As a result, you may have for the asking the benefit of this Association's long and exhaustive studies on how best to use cement for the most satisfactory results in concrete construction.

Whatever use you plan to make of cement—whether you are building a concrete hog house or concrete dairy barn, a stretch of concrete walk or a concrete road, a silo or a skyscraper, a home, workshop or a factory—you needn't guess. You can know.

If you want information about the usefulness of concrete under certain conditions, how to mix or place it to get the greatest value out of every sack of cement—you can get it by writing any one of our 28 offices listed below.

Supplying dependable information without charge by booklet, by letter or by personal conference when necessary, is the work of this Association. Millions of helpful booklets, covering a multitude of uses of concrete, are distributed annually to people who know they needn't guess—who know they can get the facts from us.

One of our new booklets, "Concrete in Home Sanitation," will surprise you with the number of easy ways in which concrete can be used to make the home healthier and happier. Address our nearest district office for your free copy.

ANOTHER THANKSGIVING DAY IS APPROACHING.

Next Thursday, November 29th, we will celebrate another Thanksgiving Day according to the annual custom in vogue since the year 1621 when the Pilgrims at Plymouth gathered the choicest foods from their fields and sent their hunters out for meat with which to celebrate the occasion of the first Thanksgiving Day when they returned thanks to their Maker for their safe landing in this country after a hazardous voyage and for His protection and guidance during the time they had been in the new country. The day is set aside by the proclamation of the President as one to be nationally observed.

Next to the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day is the most celebrated of our national holidays. Its general observance, however, is of comparative recent origin for it was not until 1864 that it was firmly established as a definite annual event.

The Pilgrims appointed a day of Thanksgiving immediately after their first harvest in 1621. The Massachusetts Bay Colony did so in 1630 and frequently thereafter but not in every year up to 1680 when it became an annual festival.

Connecticut first observed it in 1639 and annually after 1647. The Dutch in New Netherland (New York) appointed a day of Thanksgiving in 1644 and occasionally thereafter. During the Revolutionary War a Continental Congress appointed one or more days of Thanksgiving each year except in 1777 recommending to the officials of each state the observance of these dates in their states. President Washington proclaimed Thursday, November 26th, a day of Thanksgiving in 1789 and President Madison similarly set apart a day for Thanksgiving at the close of the war of 1812, acting, however, upon resolutions of Congress. The State of New York has observed an annual Thanksgiving Day since 1817. In 1858 proclamations appointing a day of Thanksgiving were issued by 25 states and two territories.

It was President Lincoln who proclaimed the fourth Thursday in November a national holiday to be set apart for Thanksgiving and religious observance in 1864 and every President since that time has annually followed his example. The day is now observed throughout the entire country and is marked by religious services and, especially in New England, has been made the occasion of family reunion and feasting.

We should pause in our mad rush for financial and worldly supremacy and return thanks to Him who gave us life, and who has watched over and cared for us during the years of our existence on this earth. We should thank Him for His promise of a greater and a better life in the world to come after we have passed from the cares and the toils of an earthly dwelling. We should thank Him for the sacrifice of His only begotten son on the cross that we might be saved.

Our blessings are multitudinous. There may be others around us whose lot seems to be better than ours. But if we would only stop and consider we would find that we have countless things to be thankful for.

The churches will on that day observe the occasion with appropriate services and we should arrange to be among the congregation at one of the services.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

Discussing the question of city debts, the Budget, a New York publication, makes the following observation:

"American cities of more than 30,000 population have borrowed so much money within the past ten years or so that their inhabitants are now paying in interest on city debt about half as much, per capita, as they pay annually in interest on the national debt. Census figures indicate that the average city dweller pays $9.04 annually in interest on the national debt—or would pay that amount if the interest were averaged among all inhabitants—whereas the interest on the debt of his old home town, incurred right under his nose, averages about $4.50.

"Free borrowing is twin brother to the high cost of government. Within five years, 100 representative American cities of more than 30,000 inhabitants each, not counting New York, which is in a class by itself, have jumped their debt upward by 48 per cent. That is nearly half. In other words, take the 1917 debt, add about half to it and the result is the debt of 1922. If we go back eight years to 1914, we find that the increase has been at the rate of about 70 per cent.

"These 100 cities had a total population of 9,058,628 in 1922. Their total net indebtedness that year was $635,142,427. In 1917, it was $436,603,959; in 1914, $375,062,323."

The indebtedness of American municipalities is appalling. Few cities are making progress in the matter of reducing the interest charge on their debts or on the debts themselves, which are becoming continually more difficult to bear.

The great question of the future is that of municipal government. With more than half the population residing in towns and cities, some way must be evolved by which the citizens can be protected from ever-increasing cost of governing themselves.—News Scimitar.

DON'T BECOME CARELESS

Many cities have recently concluded a strenuous observation of Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Prevention Week to be effective and fully preventive should be observed throughout the year.

The lesson is entirely lost, if, after a week of vigorous effort, to eliminate all danger of fire, our people settle back to the old habits and permit the usual carelessness to creep back again.

Fire Prevention Week is designed to call attention to the menace that exists on every side because of neglect which results in needless conflagrations.

If Fire Prevention Week has taught you anything, see that the lesson will not be lost in the weeks to come.

Continue to be watchful every day and keep Fire Prevention Week every week in the year.

The world is on fire, and all this pious twaddle about the social message of the gospel cannot quench the flames. A cake of soap and a pail of water are not substitutes for the Cross.—Dr. Homer McMillan of Atlanta before the Synod of Mississippi during its session at Jackson, Miss.

A THOUGHT FOR EDUCATION WEEK.

Many years ago the Japanese government sent to this country a commission whose duty was to study the methods of western civilization. This commission happened to arrive on our shores at the time an election was in progress.

The visitors saw the masses of the people going to the polls. Not merely were the aristocrats and the wise men able to vote, but everybody could participate—Tom, Dick and Harry. These Orientals, accustomed to an autocratic government administered by a small privileged class, could not understand such a phenomenon.

They asked how it was possible to run the country successfully, when a multitude of people who had never been trained for government, were yet permitted to select their rulers. They were informed that these people were prepared for self government in the public schools.

The commissioners in due time went home, and advised their government to promote popular education. The advice was accepted, and as a result Japan has during the past 50 years made remarkable progress.

This almost forgotten episode suggests a thought for American citizens in our "Education Week," named for the seven days beginning November 18. The success of our government, its ability to bring prosperity and contentment to the average home, depend in the last analysis on the public schools.

If these schools fail to do their work, government will be costly and inefficient. But if they can send out a generation of young people who have practical ideas, standards of honesty, and something of discriminating intelligence, they can make our government a greater force for human welfare than it ever has been yet.

WHY SHOP EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS?

Every year along about this time we begin to see in all the papers the admonition to "do your Christmas shopping early." Why is this slogan so insistently drummed into the ears of the people? It is not done to temporarily stimulate trade because every person has a certain amount of holiday shopping to do; there are certain relatives and dear friends that he wishes to remember and whether or not he does the buying early or waits until the last minute, he is going to buy something and is going to remember each of the ones he has in mind. At this time of the year, the stores are all getting in their holiday goods and it is advisable to make your selections early while the stocks are complete and before they have been picked over by others. And by buying early you do not have to make a hasty selection but can leisurely choose what you want. Another good reason for doing your Christmas shopping early is that it gives the clerks in the various stores the opportunity to serve you better and more intelligently. In the last few days' rush just before Christmas they are usually tired and worn out by the constant stream of always last minute shoppers, their nerves are on edge and some are nearly exhausted. It is a great help to them to get the Christmas trade served as early as possible so as to avoid as much of the rush and bustle of the holiday season.

Bear these facts in mind and begin now to do your Christmas buying. The merchants will be more than glad to let you make your selections now and lay them away for future delivery subject to your orders. You will help yourself, the salespeople and make for a merrier and happier Christmas for all concerned.

"Iron Jack" Walton of Oklahoma just bit off more than he could chew. He was a little man in a big place. His meteoric career is now ending in oblivion. Peace to his ashes!

Education Week has been named as this week and the kids of Grenada would not have objected to having the schools adjourn so that it could have been properly celebrated.

We reckon as how Jack Walton has learned not to buck them that Klu Kluxers any more. He swung out on a limb and they promptly sawed him off—Spotlight Splinters.

There is a surplus of keen minded folks who can point out the defects in their home towns, but a big shortage of the folks who will take hold to remedy these faults.

Having worked hard for many years to save a little money, many people are now ready to invest it in worthless stocks and lose it.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE

"School days, school days, dear old Golden rule days, Reading and writing and 'rithmetic." 'N-everything.

The "Hope of the country" is gathered now in serious pursuit of scholarly attainment. Let nothing interfere with this important program. Those who read this message one year ago, today, know that the use of Spivis One Night Itch Remedy stops the itch that stops the school. To our mind it is the surest preventative against itch epidemics. We invite you to consider carefully the following from a prominent educator:

June 19, 1922.

Anona Company,
Jacksonville, Tenn.

Gentlemen:

In reply to yours of the 12th in regard to Spivis One Night Itch Remedy, I wish to say I used this remedy in my family and found it to be all that it was recommended to be. Two days ago my wife came back from the hospital with a breaking out that was very annoying. The doctors pronounced it Dermatitis. While non-infectious, it was very serious. I tried two doctors without getting any relief. After several months I got a jar of Spivis One Night Itch Remedy. One application cured her.

Yours very respectfully,

(Signed) E. C. Lovern,

County Superintendent

SCHOOL NOTES

Grenada High School Girls Basketball Team plays the Charleston High School team at the High School here on Friday at 8 o'clock. See our girls play their first match game.

Grenada High School Football Team is playing at Kosciusko to lay, Friday.

Do not miss the big Thanksgiving Day game of Football on the home grounds. Winona is coming strong. A big string of cars from our rival city will be here and the home team is counting on a big attendance of Grenada folks to back them up in this final game of the season.

The entertainment by the pupils of the Elementary Grades at the High School Auditorium tonight. A splendid program has been prepared and every one is assured his money's worth and more. Admission 35 cents. Proceeds for benefit of the elementary school.

The program at the general Chapel exercises on last Friday was given by the eleventh grade under the direction of Miss Sternberger. It was an instructive and pleasing program. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises every other Friday afternoon.

Having had school six days week before last the pupils will have the pleasure of Friday as well as Thursday vacation next week.

At General Assembly next Wednesday beginning at 2 o'clock the following program will be given by the Senior History Class.

1. Song by the audience.....America
2. The President's Proclamation Martha Leigh
3. Scripture Readings.....Bobbie Jones
4. Prayer.....Rev. M. Johnson
5. Origin and Spirit of Thanksgiving and Praise:-

The Carnival given by the Girls' Reserve last Saturday was a splendid success financially and otherwise. The girls appreciate the co-operation of the entire school and thank all who contributed to the success of their undertaking.

Dr. Frederick D. Losey will be with us again in January under the auspices of the High School and Grenada College. The public is invited to attend the inspiring lectures and entertainments of this literary genius.

The teachers from every department report good work in the class and recitation rooms.

The Senior boys challenged the other boys of the school to a football game last Friday afternoon. The scrub team accepted the challenge and one of the hardest fought games of the season resulted. There was no score in the first half but in the second half Jones, Salmon and Futey went over for touch-downs. The game showed that some splendid material is being developed by Coach Barr for a team next year.

BATTLE FLEET WILL CRUISE SOUTHERN WATERS

The United States Navy Battle Fleet, consisting of the principal battleships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines of the United States Navy, together with their supply ships, repair ships, colliers, tankers, and hospital ships, will sail from their bases on January 4, 1924, for combined maneuvers in Southern Waters, probably in the proximity of Panama.

For this reason all ex-Navy men who reenlist at the Navy Recruiting Station, Custom House, New Orleans prior to January 1st, will be sent to San Pedro, California, to be distributed in the Fleet for this cruise. Heretofore, all men who reenlisted in the Navy in this district were sent to the Receiving Ship at Hampton Roads, Va., for general detail.

HOW CEMENT SACKS ARE

FILLED AFTER BEING TIED

When you next pass a contractor's crew and see them handling sacks of cement, you will be looking at containers that were tied before they were filled, and filled bottom side up.

This may seem curious; it is just another of the methods adopted by the cement industry to keep up with the growing demands upon it.

Sacks have long been favored for cement. They are easy to handle—more so for most purposes than the barrels formerly used. And each one contains a cubic foot of cement, a convenient amount for measuring.

For some years, the sacks have been filled by machines. Each sack has a hole in one of its lower corners that is covered by a valve—simply a flap of cloth. After the sack has been fastened at the top with a wire tie, it is put on the machine bottom side up and the cement, aided by an elaborate mechanism, flows in through a one-inch tube.

When the sack contains just 94 pounds, the flow is automatically cut off and the sack drops to a moving belt which carries it out to the freight car. By this method, a crew of four men can fill and load 8,000 sacks in a day—2,000 sacks per man as against 400 per man twenty years ago.

About 90 per cent of the 22,000,000 tons of cement shipped in this country last year was delivered in cloth sacks—approximately 420 million of them. Over 225,000,000 sacks are now in sack storage houses at mills or in customer's hands.

Because of sacks that do not come back, or that fail at the packing machine, 50,000,000 new ones must be bought annually, requiring the equivalent of a strip of cotton cloth 30 inches wide and 28,000 miles long. This strip of cloth would more than girdle the earth at the equator.

Awaiting packing for shipment, cement is stored in bulk—usually in huge concrete bins like silos, each holding enough cement to fill tens of thousands of sacks. Screw and belt conveyors move the cement from the bins to the packing machines.

There is still the railroad situation to be reckoned with before cement can reach the user. In times of recurring car shortages, the companies ship cement in refrigerator cars, stock cars, gondolas—anything that they can make safe even by expensive repairs and coverings. Trucking over concrete roads has been meeting the emergency in some instances.

ACTORS STUDY CHARACTERS IN PICTURE ROLES

What would you do, if some morning the phone rang, and a voice said: "Be at the studio at 11 sharp, made-up as an old man about seventy. The character must be hunch-backed, and must look as though he had been through about five wars." Would you look up paintings of old men, or would you trust to your imagination and ability to make the character?

Actors are accustomed to such calls. Lucien Littlefield, Goldwyn character actor and make-up specialist, has been asked to appear as everything from a parson to a go-rilla. In "Name the Man", Victor Seastrom's first American picture, Littlefield was called, and told to appear as a court bailiff.

Immediately the actor looked up illustrations and drawings of bailiffs, took a special process to wrinkle his face, and after four hours of practice at the make-up, appeared as a court bailiff extraordinary.

Conrad Nagel, when asked to make ready for the part of Paul, in Elinor Glyn's story, "Three Weeks" read English literature, frequented English homes, and talked with Mrs. Glyn as to her ideas of the character. The actor spent more than three weeks in order to get the "feel" of the part.

Days spent on Carter de Haven's yacht at San Pedro, Calif., and Catalina Island, prepared Frank Mayo for his part in "Wild Oranges," which King Vidor is directing. Sea stories also played their part in helping the actor to form his opinion of how the roving sea captain of Hergesheimer's story should be played.

When Raymond Griffith was told he was to portray a cynical reporter in Ted Browning's production of "The Day of Faith," he spent days frequenting newspaper offices and haunting the lower ends of town, where the character was supposed to have lived in order to get the "feel" of the part.

Yes, the actor does more than "play" in pictures.

Abe Goldstein returned home Tuesday at noon from a short stay in Memphis with relatives.

Miss Margaret Moody returned home the latter part of last week from Holly Springs where she spent some days on an enjoyable visit to Mrs. Robert Meredith.

Mrs. C. W. Kosman returned home last Thursday afternoon after having been for several weeks the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Morais, in New Orleans, La.

Mrs. W. J. Jennings, left the latter part of last week for Washington, D. C. where she went to welcome her eleventh grandchild, Ruth Barbara Ames, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Ames. Mrs. Jennings expects to be away for some weeks.

Mrs. Robert Meredith arrived the latter part of last week from her home in Holly Springs to spend a few days in Grenada with her aunt, Miss Ruby McLeod, and other relatives.

Mrs. Bruce D. Newsom spent last Saturday afternoon at the University of Mississippi where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Allen Thompson.

Harper Lake returned to Grenada last Saturday at noon after an absence of two months, most of which time was spent in various parts of Texas on business.

Fred Lickfold, Bobby Jones and J. L. Kinzey attended the dance given at the University of Mississippi last Friday evening by the Cotillion Club. They report an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Campbell were registered at the Lafisco Hotel in Charleston for dinner last Sunday evening.

Harper Hughes came down from Memphis to spend last Sunday in Grenada with his sister, Mrs. R. C. Trusty.

Roy Burt and John P. Pressgrove made their customary trip to Batesville last Sunday afternoon, returning that night. The former had spent the early part of the day in Durant.

A Wish

"I have taken Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak, too," says Mrs. Sylvia Esies, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of and her condition was much better. "We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us. "I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work."

GOOD YEAR

Watch the Kidneys Before and After Childbirth

During the period of pregnancy the kidneys have double work to do, which is apt to strain and weaken them so that they break down and fail to keep up their work of filtering the urine poisons out of the blood-stream. This condition, unless looked after promptly, may kill the baby before birth and ruin the mother's health, too. The expectant mother, should have her urine examined every two weeks. This should be done by the attending physician, or send sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y., for analysis. For joining up weakened kidneys, Dr. Pierce's An-uric (anti-uric acid) Tablets provide effective treatment, and a bottle should be kept in the house and should be used for a time after baby has come to keep the blood free from poisonous matter that might affect the little one during the nursing period. "An-uric" can now be had from all medicine dealers.

FIRST THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

"Incidentally," remarked the man with a basket on his arm, as he came into the presence of the New York Sun editor, "I might mention the fact that if you want the finest and fattest turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner, my store is the place to get it; but that is not what I am here for. I came in to bring you an item of interest. You may not know, notwithstanding an editor knows more than anybody else on earth, that the first proclamation of Thanksgiving Day that is to be found in printed form is the one issued by Francis Bernard, captain-general and governor-in-chief over his majesty's province of the Massachusetts bay in New England, and vice-admiral of the same in 1767."

"I'm glad I'm giving you something new," continued the turkey man, and now let me read it to you so you may compare it with the modern style. It is headed:

"A Proclamation for a Public Thanksgiving."

"As the business of the year is now drawing toward a conclusion, we are reminded, according to the laudable usage of the Province, to join together in a grateful acknowledgment of the manifold mercies of the Divine Providence conferred upon Us in the passing Year: Wherefore, I have thought fit to appoint, and I do, with the advice of His Majesty's Council, appoint Thursday, the Third Day of Decem-

FOCAL INFECTION

The majority of infections of the body are due to centers of infections in some part of the head. These centers are mostly the teeth and sinuses connected with the ear, nose, throat, tonsils and teeth.

There are thirty-two chances for infection from the permanent teeth and twenty from the temporary teeth. If the teeth and mouth are neglected you are almost certain to have foci, or centers of infection, in the mouth. Any disease that is caused by pus may develop from the teeth.

It is true that you cannot prevent all mouth infection no matter how hard you try, but you can prevent most of it. Isn't it foolish to suffer and waste health and energy from abscesses that you could have prevented?

You might be naturalized in another country and you might have another wife or husband, but you can't get another body. Take care of the one you have.

Only a fool would want another war. The greatest tragedy of war is that war kills the wrong people.

When the day does come, though, we must have the vigor and energy to do our part. No less must we have the energy and vigor to do our part in times of peace. Peace is a war of commercial competition for the markets of the world.

If we are to do our part, every citizen must be able to do his share of the work, no matter what that share may be. We must have nourishment. How can anyone be properly nourished on soup?

Whenever you lose your power to masticate you become a "souper." The earlier you lose the power to masticate your food, the sooner your physical and mental development will stop. With all of our high ideals, all of our advancement, all of our science, we still face the stern necessity of eating three meals each day.

All of the millions of people in this world must think first of their food supply. We are anchored to the kitchen.

Why not get the fullest benefit of our food? Take care of your children's teeth and of your own teeth so that the vitamins that hold the secret power of nourishment may be extracted from the food and do their full duty.

"And I do exhort all Ministers of the Gospel with their several Congregations, within this Province, that they assemble on the said Day in a Solemn manner to return their most humble thanks to Almighty God for these and all other of His Mercies vouchsafed unto us, and to beseech Him notwithstanding our Unworthiness, to continue His gracious Providence over us, And I command and enjoin all Magistrates and Civil Officers to see that the said Day be observed as a Day set apart for religious worship, and that no servile Labour be performed thereon.

In the last analysis, a war is just a fight between two sets of people; one set wishes to take the other's food away from them.

When we neglect our teeth we bring down on our own heads the penalty that a victorious enemy would inflict. We deprive ourselves of the full benefit of our food.

Sincerity must be the foundation of all sound Christian experience and progress. There is no place in the religious life for duplicity of any kind. If any form of that be resorted to, the wrecking of any spiritual development that may have begun in the soul soon follows. No sort of emotion or service can be a substitute for integrity. If that be wanting, one is pitifully destitute, no matter what else one may possess.—Exchange.

W. J. JENNINGS, SR., FOR MAYOR DAD'S DAY AND

In the proper column, this week's issue, may be found the name of W. J. Jennings, who is announcing his candidacy for Mayor of the city of Grenada, subject to the will of the voters in the February primary election.

Will Jennings needs no introduction to the people of Grenada because he has resided here practically all his life and is regarded as one of the town's best citizens. He is dependable in all things, true to his word and his convictions, is clever, accommodating and obliging and his friends know him to be as true as steel to them and to every trust.

Mr. Jennings has served two or more terms as alderman being a member of the board when the power plant and sewerage system was installed here and had an active part in the purchase of the required machinery and supplies, location of arc lights, fire plugs, etc. Later he was a member of the board of trustees for the city schools and served efficiently in that capacity for two terms. From July 1, 1912 to Oct. 1, 1919 Mr. Jennings was secretary and purchasing agent for the A. & M. College, from which position he voluntarily resigned, and during the nearly eight years of his administration of the business of that institution there was never a question as to the proper handling and accounting of the money or the business.

The experience he has had in public affairs as well as private business should fully qualify him to discharge the duties of the Mayor's office acceptably and well.

Mr. Jennings will no doubt make an effort to see all the voters between now and the time of the election so that he may personally present his claims to them.

THE BULLDOGS AND TIGERS CLASH

On last Friday afternoon the Bulldogs, consisting of members of the senior class, and the Panthers consisting of members of the other grades in high school and the eighth grade, clashed in a fierce struggle for supremacy.

In the beginning of the first half both teams played with such tenacity that it seemed as if they were evenly matched. Neither side could gain over the other, but toward the end of the first half things began to look gloomy for the Panthers. The Bulldogs with all the stubbornness characteristic of a full blood bull pup steadily pushed forward until they were within two yards of their goal. A cheer from the handful of Bulldog supporters rent the air. The Panther crowd held their breath. Would their men hold off the Bulldogs or not? Then a chorus of yells burst into the air. The Panthers had succeeded in driving the Bulldogs back a safe distance.

The bell rang for the second half. The opposing sides sprang mechanically into their places. On their faces was a grim look of determination. The signal to play sounded. The Bulldogs tore at the Panthers like a mad man. The Panthers scratched, hissed and fought. The Bulldogs grappled with all their strength. The two lines surged backwards and forwards in the middle of the field, with neither side gaining. But this could not keep on forever. The Bulldogs were no longer Bulldogs but mad dogs. The Panther's eyes flashed fire. Their backs were arched and ready for the death spring. The Bulldogs stamped the Panthers to the ground and ended the quarter by Salmon making a touchdown by intercepting a forward pass. This spurred the Bulldogs on with more fervor and enthusiasm than ever. Not satisfied with one touchdown, they again crushed the Panthers earthward, and Jones scored another touchdown by making an end run.

In the last quarter Futhey made another touchdown for the Bulldogs. The Panthers rushed in with all their remaining strength, but the whistle ended the game with a score of 21 to 0 in favor of the Bulldogs.

MRS. CLARA S. HODGES DIES.

Mrs. Clara S. Hodges, aged 58, died at eight o'clock Monday morning at the home of her son, E. B. Hodges, on the Borden farm, formerly the Lamar Ross place, south of Grenada and her remains were interred at Scobey the following day after services conducted by the pastor of the Christian church at Oakland.

Mrs. Hodges was devout in her religion and was devoted to her family and loved ones. She had early in life united with the church and had held steadfast to her religious beliefs.

Her husband preceded her to the grave some time ago. To the bereft relatives, The Sentinel extends its sympathy.

ALUMNI HOMECOMING AT A. AND M. COLLEGE

A. and M. College, Mississippi.—November 20, 1923.—The student body of the Mississippi A. and M. College has been very busy this fall. Great preparation has been made and everything is in readiness for Dad's Day and the annual Homecoming of the Alumni and former students of the Mississippi A. and M. College. Never before have such complete plans been laid and carried out as this year, and never before has there been such wide interest in the occasion among the Dads and Alumni. With a large attendance of Dads and Grads, with a day full of events of interest to all Mississippians, with a football game that promises all the thrills anyone could ask for, with a year of achievement to look back to, and with the annual exhibits of livestock, Horticultural products, Farm Machinery, Poultry, Field Crops and Dairy products, "Dad's and Grads" Day this year will leave few moments hanging heavily upon those who are fortunate enough to visit A. and M. on this occasion.

The first event on the program is a demonstration and display of modern farm machinery which will take place at the Agricultural Engineering Building Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

At 8:00 o'clock P. M. in the College Auditorium, the Dramatic Club will present its first play of the year, "Charlie's Aunt."

On Saturday morning at 8:30 the departmental floats will "pass in review," and at 9:30 the cadets will appear in a Regimental parade immediately after the parade all exhibits will be thrown open for inspection. Each department will have separate booths for their exhibits. Judging from the displays for last year these exhibits will rival the best fairs in the country. Chief among these exhibits will be the Annual Livestock Show, Exhibit of the Mississippi A. and M. Horticultural Society, Annual Exhibit of Farm Machinery, Exhibit of Field Crops, Poultry Exhibit and the display of Dairy products.

Following the lunch hour, at 1:15 o'clock the Hair and Hide Club (the student livestock club) will sponsor a horseback riding contest in which the young ladies of the camps and Starkville will participate.

The football game between Louisiana State University and Mississippi A. and M. will start at 2:00 P. M. Those who have seen the Varsity football team play this fall realize that A. and M. has a real football team, a team that has given a good account of itself this fall and one that will strive hard to down the Louisiana Tigers on this occasion. This game will mark the close of the football season.

The "M" Club will meet at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at 7:00 P. M. All men who have been members of varsity teams at A. and M. are requested to be present.

A picture show in the main auditorium at 8:00 P. M. will complete the program.

FOOD DEMONSTRATIONS GIVEN

The Holcomb home demonstration club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of its president, Mrs. J. L. Elliott. There were present about 3 members and visitors. Miss Kate Lee, county home demonstration agent of Grenada County was fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mrs. Frances Y. Kline, extension field agent from the educational department of the Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, New York, to give a demonstration on this occasion.

The demonstration table was artistically decorated in chrysanthemums and orange baskets. Mrs. Kline prepared a delicious salad. She also made pineapple Bavarian cream and a four-colored Neapolitan decorated with a fruit design.

These dainties were all served to the ladies present, who were unanimous in voting them as palatable as they were beautiful. They all expressed to Miss Lee their appreciation of her interest in making possible this demonstration.

Mrs. Kline congratulated the ladies on the splendid system of home demonstration work for which Mississippi is so justly famous. She spoke of its early history and rapid development, stating that few progressive counties would be without the services of a home demonstration agent. Attractive recipe books were presented to each lady as a souvenir of the occasion.

Act today, don't delay! Christmas cards must be ordered at once to get them here in time. A beautiful selection of samples on display at The Sentinel office.

Christmas Day in Own Home

By ETHEL COOK ELIOT

Mother, Father and Children Have Special Guests at Family Feast

"M ALMOST glad we're not going to our Grandmother's for Christmas this year," Mrs. Will confided to Mr. Will a week before that great day. "Do you realize we've never had a Christmas here in our own home, just ourselves and our family?"

"Yes, I've been thinking of that," Mr. Will replied. "Let's keep it just ourselves, and give the kiddies one truly home Christmas to remember." As usual, Mr. and Mrs. Will were in complete agreement in their ideas and emotions. Mrs. Will sighed contentment. Mr. Will sighed contentment, too; for after all, such harmony as theirs is not so common in this workaday world of wives and husbands.

But as Christmas day grew nearer and nearer Mrs. Will suddenly realized she was nursing a sick conscience. There was something she had not the heart to confide to Mr. Will. Now, Mr. Will had a sick conscience, too. There was something he had not the heart to confide to Mrs. Will.

But fortunately everything was straightened out before Christmas, that day of peace, dawned.

Billy, their oldest, didn't know what the word conscience meant. Of course he had heard mother and father whispering about how nice a strictly family Christmas would be.

He had heard them, but perhaps he hadn't understood their sentiment. Anyway, at luncheon, two days before Christmas, he suddenly blurted, "Say, Mom, I've asked Jim Larkin to our Christmas dinner and the tree. You know his folks are in Europe, and he's just staying on at the school. Thought he'd like it here better. More homelike."

"Oh, bother, Billy," Lucy cried—thirteen-year-old Lady Lucy. "I've asked Patty Brown. She hasn't any folks anywhere, even in Europe. Just that snobbish great-aunt who's giving a big house party, all old folks, and doesn't want Patty around. She needs a home Christmas more than your Jim!"

Father was eyeing mother anxiously. Her bright smile amazed him. "Well, I'm sure there's room for them both. I am glad you have such kind hearts, children."

But now Mr. Will spoke timidly. "I'm sorry, mother, but I, too, have asked a guest. Couldn't help it some how! That young Miller at the office. He's so cut up about his mother's death, and a boarding house is a dreary place to spend Christmas." Mr. Will's voice was timorous, almost pleading.

But Mrs. Will's bright smile had now turned to a calm, relieved one. "Oh, that's splendid, dear," she said. "For, do you know, I myself have invited that pretty little Gladys Haver-lill. She looked so woe-begone when I met her at the grocer's Saturday and asked her whether she was going home for Christmas. She said a poor school teacher couldn't travel way across a continent even for a Christmas at home. What could I do! And do you know, I've always thought Gladys and Ted Miller ought to meet. They're such nice young people—and Gladys is so pretty!"

So that's what happened to the Will's precious family Christmas. But not one of the Will's felt that he had been cheated of anything. On the contrary! And Mr. and Mrs. Will are in closer harmony than ever. You see, they are the same sort of people—not a too common thing in workaday life. And Billy and Lucy are growing up rather like them.

IN MERRIE ENGLAND

The English Christmas is not unlike ours, save that we do not have their pretty custom of "bringing in the yule." In almost every family in England the boys and girls gather about the burning log on Christmas Eve to sing carols and tell Christmas legends. Often the children who live in the country assist at the dragging in of the huge log. An English child would not feel that it was Christmas if there were not a bit of mistletoe hanging in the hall, under which the unwary are kissed soundly. Little and big eat the rich and blissing plum pudding, and all join in the singing of Christmas carols and churchgoing.

A WISH

A Merry Christmas, yes, a day of laughter, And here's a wish for every day thereafter: When Christmas goes, as it of course must do, May every day that comes be merry too.

WIDE PROGRAM ON NEGRO EDUCATION.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—An announcement from Nashville, Tenn., that Julius Rosenwald, wealthy mail order house official, would attend the dedication of the South's two thousandth Rosenwald school has brought to light an extensive program for the betterment of negro education in this country.

The scope of the plan for improvement of negro schools has extended now to 14 states of the South, Francis W. Shephardson, formerly director of the state department of education, and now educational secretary of the Julius Rosenwald fund, points out in Opportunity, publication of the National Urban league.

A conference held in 1912 between the late Booker T. Washington and Rosenwald, during which the negro educator deplored conditions in the South, where he felt that members of his race were being denied educational opportunities, resulted in the proposal of the Chicago business man to extend help, Shephardson says.

An offer was said to have been made by which Rosenwald would contribute to the erection of a schoolhouse in every community which raised either from negroes, friendly whites or from public funds an equal amount or more than Mr. Rosenwald gave.

After 11 years 3,013 schoolhouses have been built or are in the course of construction, costing a total of $7,486,486. Of this amount the negroes gave $1,853,758; whites, $493,424; public funds, $3,809,408, and the Julius Rosenwald fund, $1,430,156. An appropriation for the year ending June 30, 1904, of $500,000, has been made by the fund for construction.

MISSIONARY FORCES TO GATHER IN GRENADA

Okolona Missionary Society extended a hearty welcome, Mrs. J. H. Houghton, Mrs. C. L. Tubb, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Payne and others represented Aberdeen. Mrs. T. M. Clarke, Mrs. W. L. Elkin, represented Tupelo; Mrs. Dr. Cantrell, Plantersville, Mrs. Mary Word, Tranquil; Winter, Buena Vista. Representatives were present also from Van Vleet and other points in the district.

Mr. W. D. Hawkins delivered an inspirational message at the evening hour. The women of the Okolona Auxiliary provided luncheon at one of the city hotels for all visitors.

The meeting was one of a group of such meetings being held in the interest of the advance programme of the church.

Corinth, Nov. 22; Grenada, Nov. 23; Greenwood Nov. 24; Clarksdale, Nov. 26, and Senatobia, Nov. 27, are on the schedule for the present week.

At Grenada, Dec. 13, and at Jackson, Dec. 12, general meetings will be held with all laymen, ministers and presiding bishops.

BETTY COLE SHOP WILL HANDLE SHOES

The Betty Cole Shop has made arrangements to represent the Cinderella Boot Shop of Memphis and within a very short time will have in stock a wonderful line of ladies' shoes in the very latest styles that will appeal to those of the most discriminating tastes. A representative of the Cinderella Boot Shop was here the first of the week concluding the final details and the ladies of Grenada may expect to soon obtain the most fashionable shoes at The Betty Cole Shop.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

On February 14th, 1923, Will Harbin and his wife, Lula Harbin, executed to A. G. Roane, Trustee, trust deed conveying the following property:

Lots 1 and 2, Section 19, Township 22, Range 3 East, Grenada County, Mississippi, containing 113 acres, and four mules, together with crop to be grown in 1923, to secure an indebtedness to Bank of Holcomb, as therein set out. This trust deed is of record Book 60 page 103, Chancery Clerk's office, Grenada County. Default having been made in payment of the indebtedness secured by said trust deed, and at the request of beneficiary and under terms thereof, I will proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder within legal hours in front of the East door of the Court House, Grenada, Miss., on the 15th day of December, 1923, the above described land together with personal property and such part of the crop which has not been sold.

This the 22nd day of November, 1923. A. G. Roane, Trustee 11 23 4t

THE windows in your house and mine On Christmas Eve will brightly shine, Where gleaming candles shed their light Through the dark watches of the night— Pointing a path a-down the street To guide the wandering Christ Child's feet!

(But, look! Out in the bitter cold Are those by misery made old! Robbed of their birthright, pinched and thin, Peering our pleasant homes within— Our little Brothers stand outside, To look on joys they are denied!)

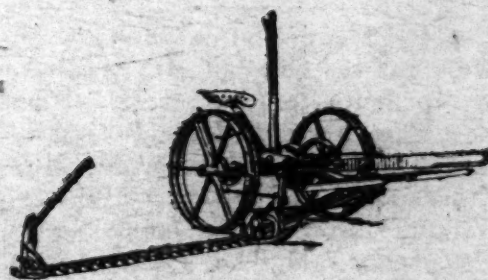

Your children's hearts, and mine, will be Made happy by a Christmas tree Aglow with lights. And oh! the fun Of hanging stockings, every one— Then, off to bed, imagining What Santa Claus is going to bring.

(But—in the midst of gladness, hark! Is that a child's sob in the dark? One of our little Sisters weeps And sorrow, even as she sleeps. Because—oh, Mary's Son!—because Her name's not known to Santa Claus!)

So, light the candles if you will, To guide the Christ—but, better still, Give of your goods that there may be More happiness, less tragedy— At Christmas, he who does no giving Has yet to learn the joy of living!

What will the harvest be?

Tt this time of the year when the earth is yielding its rewards to the man who has put his time and the work of his hands and the sweat of his brow into producing a crop, let us pause to consider the parallel of the man who sows his seed in other fields, with the hope that he will reap a crop of sales.

What harvest should you reap from Advertising? What gives you the greatest yield? How may you increase the profitable fertility of the fields you cultivate?

Consider the man who works with nature. If he tills his soil wisely he not only gets his yield of grain but he leaves his field better prepared for another crop in the coming year. He does not reap one crop and leave his fields to lie idle; he sows as long as his fields are fertile, that the autumn may bring him another harvest.

And so it should be with your advertising. Assuredly, over the period of a year, it should bring you an increased volume of sales. But it is too much to think that you can cast your seed upon the ground and forget it until the harvest. You must cultivate—you must nourish the good-will which you are creating—you must be consistent, constant, continuous in your effort, year in, year out.

Do you follow a consistent plan—do you sow and cultivate, and reap as carefully as your brother who works for nature's rewards? In your case, as in his, the greatest rewards come to those who are constant.
